Spring meeting: A breath of fresh air – future-proofing healthcare ventilation

BMA House, London

his.org.uk/training-events/spring-meetings/spring-meeting-2022

The annual HIS Spring meeting is focused on topical issues relating to infection prevention and control. As a leading company involved in infection prevention and control we would like to invite you to exhibit at this event.

Our audience is primarily medical microbiologists and infection control nurses, and doctors enrolled on an infection speciality training programme, but also includes biomedical and clinical scientists, pharmacists and public health personnel. Previous events have attracted around 100 delegates and we expect to achieve similar numbers once again.

The Spring meeting will offer attendees an opportunity for poster and oral presentations and the topic this year is A breath of fresh air – future-proofing healthcare ventilation. This event will include sessions on the background of ventilation, clinical aspects of ventilation in the healthcare environment and engineering aspects of ventilation and design.

The event is being held as a fully face-to-face event in central London, which offers excellent road, rail and air transport links to potential attendees.

This is an important educational event for the Healthcare Infection Society, in an area of current strong clinical and commercial interest. We hope that you will be able to attend and contribute to what will be a great event.
